Amanda's ready to race dogs

Eleven-year-old Amanda Stephenson has never driven a team of sled dogs, but this year she will be one of the favourites to win the Kid-and-Mutt race during the Minden Sled Dog Derby.

Amanda's artistic talents have won her first place in the derby poster contest and her prize will be an inside look at the world of sled-dog racing with the guidance of one of the best mushers on the planet.

Terri Killam of Northboro, Massachusetts will be spending an hour with Amanda this Saturday, pointing out some of the secrets to her own racing success. Killam won the eight-dog class in Minden last year and placed second in the four-dog class. Her championship team pulled her to the Gold Medal in the eight-dog class in 1988, making her the best eight-dog racer in the world.

Amanda's poster was judged against dozens of others entered by students from Archie Stouffer Elementary School. Her rendering of a team of Amanda Stephenson proudly displays her Minden Sled Dog Derby poster which was selected by judges as the best over-all. The students of Archie Stouffer Elementary School lent their artistic talents to help promote the race. Their work will be on display in area businesses from now until the derby.

Scott reminded of promised water solution

A group of Haliburton County residents has sent out a reminder to Victoria-Haliburton MP Bill Scott in hopes of keeping the issue of lake levels up front in the new year.

More than 30 names were attached to a letter to Scott, reminding him of his election campaign promise to introduce a Private Member's Bill in the House in an attempt to get his colleagues to recognize the problem.

"During the past several years, the drastic change in water levels of the lakes in Haliburton County has been an increasing concern and frustration for many Haliburton residents," the letter begins. It was addressed to Scott and copies were sent to the Environment Minister, the Haliburton County Warden, Dysart Township Reeve and the Chairman of the water levels advisory committee.

Faced with convincing commitment to the resolution of this situation from his opponents in the November federal election, Scott came out with an action plan of his own. He promised that, if necessary, he would draft a Private Member's Bill.

He also had then-environment minister Tom McMillan make an appearance in the riding during the campaign and arranged for a meeting with Harry Davis, chairman of the water levels advisory committee. McMillan, however, was defeated in the election, nullifying the progress made during this meeting.

The problem of fluctuating water levels in Haliburton's lakes is caused by the Trent-Severn Waterway, which is a branch of the federal environment ministry. The waterway uses Haliburton lakes as its reservoir and causes the levels to fluctuate by as much as 10 feet.

The droughts experienced during the past two summers drew increased attention to the problem. Lake levels dropped to new record lows, and along with the lakes, the water table for the entire county dropped. Hundreds of people were left with dry wells as a result.

The letter to Scott asks only that he respond to this situation early in the new year.

Hospital delays are costly

Anticipating that construction costs for the planned addition to the Haliburton Hospital will increase because of delays in the construction start-up, the hospital board has notified county council that it will be seeking more of a contribution to the building fund.

The plans for an addition to house 18 long-term care beds at the hospital were put on hold by the Ministry of Health because an air conditioning system was not incorporated in the plans. The ministry requires all facilities serving long-term patients to be air conditioned.

Leo Doiron, Executive Director of the St. Joseph's General Hospital, recently wrote to Haliburton County Council to provide an update on the activities and provide a forewarning that the longer project is delayed, the more it will cost.

Doiron told council that the hospital board had hoped construction would

Unploughing the roads

At this time of year, roads crews are usually hard at work ploughing the snow off the roads. However, this Friday night in Minden, the municipal roads department will be doing the opposite.

At 6 p.m. Friday, a section of Minden's Main Street between Newcastle and South Water Streets will be closed to traffic in order that a smooth layer of snow can be set down.

This is part of the preparations for the fifth running of the Minden Sled Dog Derby. The start and finish line for the two days of racing is right on the Main Street and snow has to be set down to provide a smooth trail for the dogs and sleds. In addition, berms will be built of snow to form the chute.

About 100 dog teams and thousands of spectators are expected to be in the village this Saturday and Sunday for the world's largest limited-class sled-dog race. As usual the races will be starting at 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday. Spectators are invited to line the chute on Main Street where the teams start out and finish up.

This year teams will be competing for a total purse of $20,000, provided by the derby's main sponsor, Martin Pet Foods of Elmira. The top 15 finishers in each of the eight-dog and four-dog classes will share in this money.

Area residents are reminded that traffic over the bridge will be limited to one lane while races are underway. Use of the Bobcaygeon Road, Scotch Line and Highway 35 are suggested to avoid congestion at that point.

Pet owners are also reminded to leave their animals at home. Dogs or cats along the trail can distract a racing team, causing injury to the dogs, driver and spectators.

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Little or no snow for the first half of the month. Quite cold and dry, considerable frost in the ground. Doubtful at times but got a white Christmas at last moment. This December was considerably colder than December 1987. This season to December 31 we have only a total of 39 cm (15 inches) of snow. Last year to December 31 the total was 101 cm (39 inches).

Trivia: Who devised a temperature scale with the boiling point of water at 0 degrees and the freezing temperature at 100 degrees?

Answer: Anders Celsius. When people complained he reversed the freezing and boiling points to produce the Celsius scale that we now use - Seems people still complain!

Celsius is the same as the centigrade scale we learned in school, only the name is changed.

be well underway by this time. "Unfortunately we got caught in the general freeze on all capital projects across the province to permit the Ministry of Health to conduct a review and set some priorities."

Plans for the addition have received approval from the Fire Marshal's Office and are now being reviewed by the ministry. They will need to be revised, however, once the ministry decides which of the two air-conditioning systems should be worked into the original plans.

Once the drawings are revised, ministry approval to go to tender is needed. Tendering will take from four to six weeks, after which the ministry approval to sign the contract is once again needed.

"We are still expecting to be able to get construction under way in the early spring," Doiron said.

Initially, the estimated cost of the project was set at $1-million, of which the ministry will fund 75 per cent.

A surprising response to the local fundraising campaign saw more than $400,000 raised by the end of 1987. The plans were drafted, everything was set to go, and then the delays started.

"As you can appreciate, any delay in building projects these days will result in higher costs due to the effects of inflation on the construction industry," Doiron said. "We will, no doubt, experience a considerable increase in this project, over our working estimate which was set out a long time ago."

In addition to the inflationary increases, the added cost of the air-conditioning system will have to be tacked on.

Part of the additional costs will be covered by the interest building up on the campaign funds. There are also some late contributions to the fund that are still expected.

"However, I expect we will also have to request that the County Council and Township Councils consider adding to the amount already pledged to this project," Doiron said.

If construction does begin this spring, the project will be finished by the spring of the following year. At that point the municipal grants will be needed.

The amount of the increase to local governments is yet to be determined. Until the cost of the air-conditioning system is settled, it is difficult to set an estimate. Doiron said he hopes everything will be resolved in the next several weeks, after which a revised cost estimate will be available.

Remembering promises

The initiative taken by a group of Kashagawigamog Lake residents this week to remind our Member of Parliament of his promise of help in finding a solution to the aggravating problem of fluctuating lake levels is something we wish more people in Haliburton County would undertake.

More than 30 people signed their names to a letter to Bill Scott, reminding him of his promise to present a Private Member's Bill in the House on this matter. There was no angry tone to the letter; it was simply a reminder that the people of Haliburton County are awaiting some word from him on any progress made toward a solution.

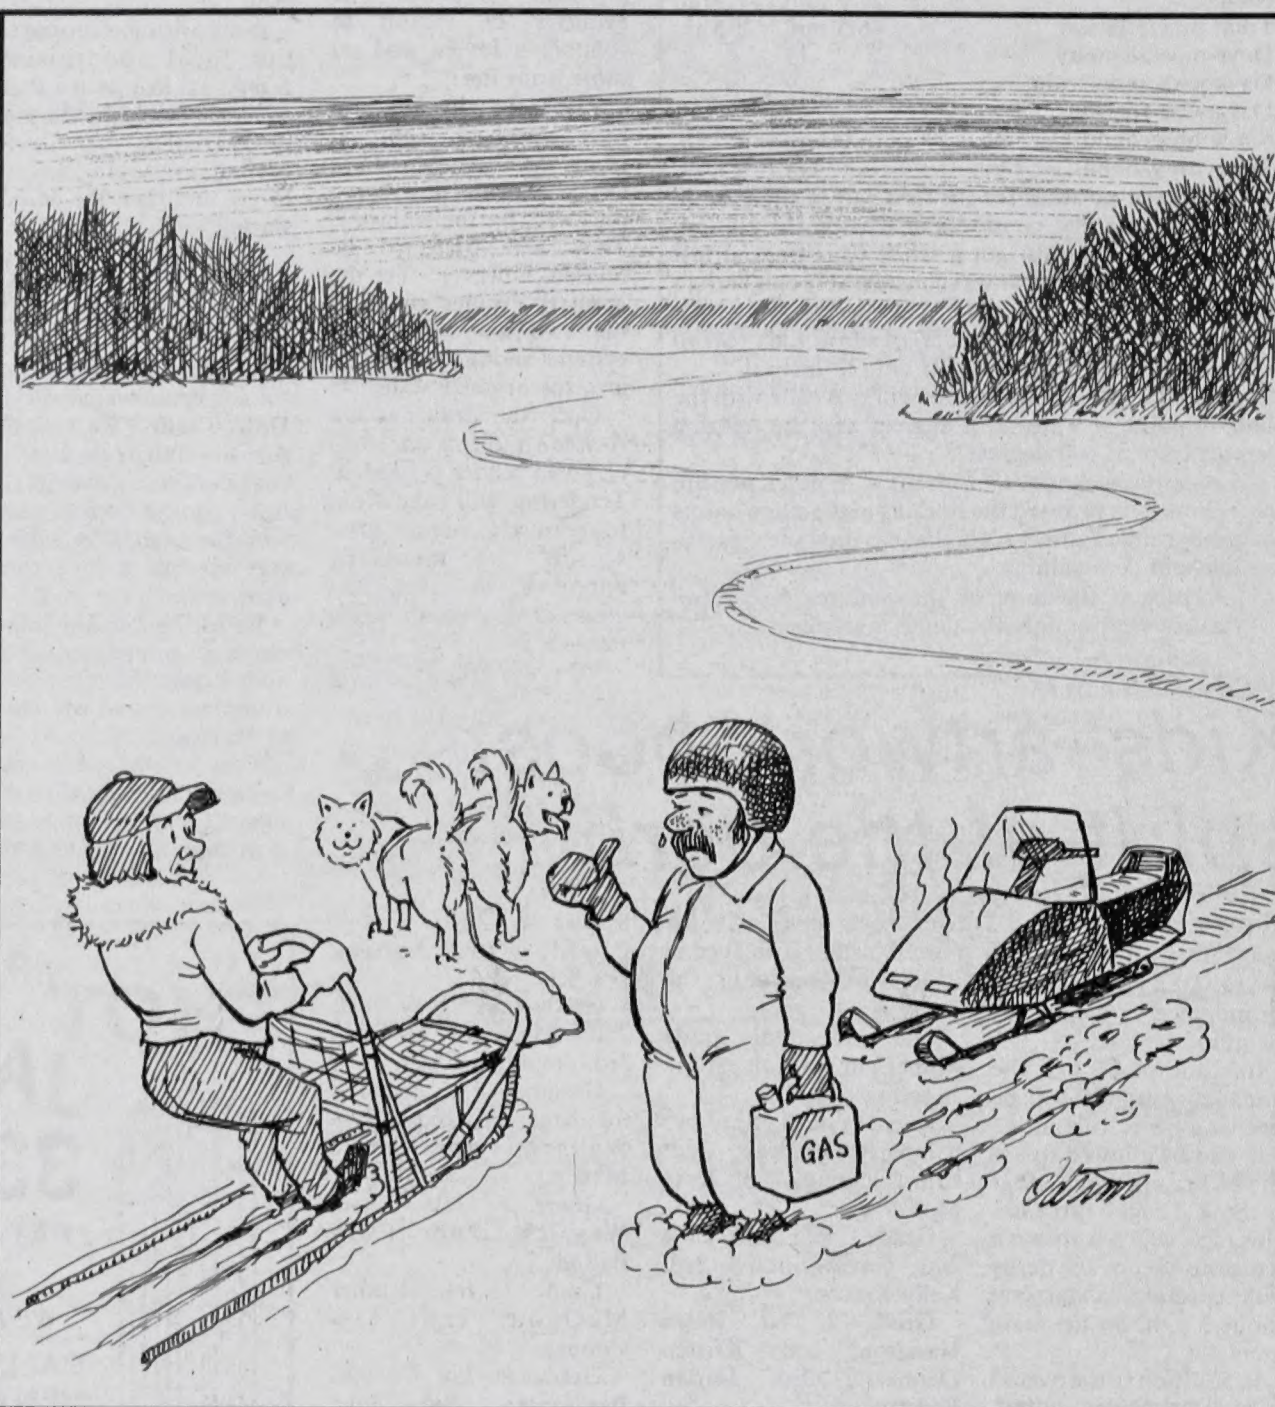

We have begrudgingly accepted this unacceptable situation for decades already. The levels of Haliburton County's lakes are considered unimportant as long as there is enough water to keep the Trent-Severn Waterway in operation.

Unfortunately, it is plain to see that nothing will be accomplished unless we first get our message across to the federal government that we are no longer willing to let this situation linger on.

We need more people to send reminders to Mr. Scott. Reminders that he is elected as our representative, and as such, it is his job to convey our concerns to his colleagues.

In his most recent report, Scott spoke of following through on commitments made in the campaign. However, the only commitment he mentioned specifically was the Free Trade Bill.

Apparently, reminders are needed.

Do you saw logs?

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

Okay, 'fess up now - do you snore?

Naw, me neither - although I'll bet, like me, you're saddled with a companion who insists to the edge of hysteria that sharing a mattress with you is like bedding down with a working chain saw.

It's an odd phenomenon. My own mother swore I snored. So did my brothers and sisters. Now Lynne takes up the same pathetic litany. I'll be lying there in a sound, delicious sleep when suddenly my ribs are rattled by an elbow that would put Gordie Howe to shame.

"Turn over!" she'll growl. "You're snoring!"

No accounting for delusion, I guess.

Funny thing, snoring - funny I mean, to those of us who have never suffered from it. Doctors explain somewhat grandly that it is caused by the vibration of the soft part of the palate, the roof of the mouth and the arch that sweeps down from this behind the tonsils. When a snorer turns on his back, takes a mighty breath and unconsciously put these elements together, he created a wind instrument that can shiver your timbers, rattle your windows and has caused many a baggy eyed spouse to ponder the upside of divorce proceedings.

My medical dictionary says that a snore can reach 69 decibels, which puts it just a shade under the noise made by a pneumatic drill.

My newspaper on the other hand, tells me that it's time to invest in a new medical dictionary. Mine's out of date.

It doesn't know about Mark Hebbard.

Mark's a chap that lives and works and sleeps in a cosy suburb of Richmond, British Columbia. He's surrounded by neighbours who enjoy two out of three of the aforementioned pastimes. They live and work there, but they don't sleep - not when Mark Hebbard's sawing logs. That's because Mark snores. Loudly. Louder in fact, than anyone else in the world. Hebbard is a senior systems analyst when he's awake. When he's asleep he's the terror of his community. He snores so loud that neighbours have called the police. He snores so loud that he could have (but so far hasn't) been arrested for breaking the city noise bylaw. He snores so loud that his wife not only can't sleep in the same room with him - she can't sleep in the same house.

Okay. So just how loud does Mark Hebbard snore?

Well, the Canadian Hearing Foundation sent Mark to the University of British Columbia to find out. Doctors and scientists wired him up, put a decibel meter over his head and turned out the lights.

Once he dropped off, Hebbard came in at constant noise level of 85 decibels with several peaks of 90 decibels.

That's five decibels over the maximum permissible noise level under Vancouver law, and only a few decibels below a Black and Decker power saw, a Toro lawn mower at open throttle, or a Heavy Metal rock

Extradition laws need to be revised

Editor:

Justice demands that those who commit horrendous crimes against society be given a fair trial in a court of law and if they are found guilty that they pay the penalty according to the laws of the state in which they committed their crimes.

This is normally the case but with Canada's archaic extradition laws with the United States it has become a case of American murderers paying the penalty unless, of course, they make it to Canada.

Once in Canada, these murders are protected as though they were an endangered species. We guarantee them rights, even to the point of refusing to extradite them unless guarantees are given that they will not be executed should they be returned and found guilty of the crimes for which they are accused.

This harboring of criminals by Canada is not only morally objectionable but on an international level it is against Resolution 40/34 of the United Nations adopted November 29, 1985. This Declaration states that member states should "co-operate with other states, through mutual judicial and administrative assistance, in such matters as the detection and pursuit of offenders and their extradition."

All Canadians have an interest in this issue since the lives of all Canadians are being endangered with these murders using Canada as a haven. In 1987 a New York murderer came to Canada to escape justice in New York. Within 24 hours he murdered a police constable of the New Brunswick Highway Patrol. Does this one murder alone not justify changing laws that encourage these murderers to come to Canada?

We ask that all Canadians concerned with justice to join us in a letter writing campaign asking our Justice Minister to end this ludicrous travesty of justice by allowing these murderers safe refuge in Canada. We are gathering letters to present to the Justice Minister of Canada in February. The letter has to simply ask for the return of American murderers to the United States immediately to stand trial for the crimes for which they are accused. Letters should be addressed to the Justice Minister of Canada and forwarded to: Victims of Violence, 305, 10454 82nd Avenue, Edmonton, T6E 4Z7.

Mrs. Hebbard says that she has suffered partial hearing loss. "You can imagine what a motorcycle blowing in your ear for 15 years would do," says her husband. That doesn't surprise me. What does is the fact that there still is a Mrs. Hebbard. Some of Mark's ex-fishing buddies are less loyal. They still remember an overnight salmon fishing trip they took with Mark. Mark warned them of his condition and asked to be bunked with the heaviest snorers on the trip. "I got two of the heaviest snorers," he recalls, "but they couldn't sleep through my snoring. They had to sleep when they were out on the boat fishing."

The good news is, Mark may get asked to go fishing next year. He's just come through an operation that should correct his condition and give Mrs. Hebbard her first decent night's sleep in a decade and a half.

It gives you and me something too - something to say the next time you-know-who jabs us in the ribs for "allegedly" snoring.

Just ask her how she'd like to spend a night in the sack with Mark Hebbard.

Winter wonderland

Forget New Year's resolutions

How many of you have gone through these two new year's weeks without breaking your New Year's resolutions?

Come now. Be honest. Not one extra sweet dessert? Not one cigarette? Not one extra hour of T.V.? Not one drink?

I didn't break any.

I didn't make any.

What is it with this New Year resolution stuff anyway? Just because the number at the end of the calendar increases by one we decide to break habits years in the making, to reform attitudes a lifetime in thinking.

It is hard enough to ask how this can be done. Answers range from sheer will power to God's grace to "don't bother trying".

I wonder if anyone asks why we make resolutions to change, or why we are simply not bothering this year to make any.

Surely we don't make them for reasons of health; we would (or should) be taking them more seriously.

Perhaps we make them more out of whimsy;

directions

by Edward Moll

make'em and break'em. We fall under the spell of our human weakness, and invoke the prayer of the Shrug: "Well, nobody's perfect". The inevitable happens. The urge comes after the meal. One won't hurt, will it?

Ah, yes. That is precisely the point. One will hurt. One is all it takes to break the resolve.

Nevertheless it does seem odd we should choose the turning of the year in the dead of winter to hope for change. Maybe there is something in us of holy dissatisfaction (God's image?); something that wants to bring order out of the chaotic mess of our lives; something wrong that needs to be set right. Classical theologians had a name for it: "Original sin". It is as if human beings were made a puzzle, complete except for one piece missing. You know how aggravating that can be:

What is even more disturbing is knowing that we cannot provide the missing piece. Deep down we also know only One can do so. The good news is that he happens to have already given it to us: we celebrated his birth scarce weeks ago. Have we thrown out the Baby with the wrapping paper?

There is an old native legend which describes the conscience as a triangle in my heart. Every time I do something wrong, the triangle turns, the points catch the flesh, and it hurts. However, if I keep on doing the wrong thing, the points wear off. The triangle still turns, but it no longer hurts.

Maybe that's why we keep on breaking our resolutions.

Maybe that is why despair sets in.

God's missing piece doesn't remove the triangle. He keeps the points sharp, to spur us on to trust God and do better next time, to "do justly, love mercy, and walk humbly before God".

Forget about New Year's resolutions.

I'm going to make New Day's resolutions.

Redmen overtake Weldon

Still aiming for playoff berth

In impressive come-from-behind fashion, the HHSS Redmen hockey team mounted a 9-5 win over I.E. Weldon last Wednesday, building their record to seven wins and two losses.

Weldon, which is a new team to the league this season, surprised the Redmen in the early going with four unanswered goals. It wasn't long, though, before the Redmen matched that and eventually went into the lead to stay.

Weldon's goaltender was incredibly hot at the opening of the game while Haliburton's Hans Fluegel was struggling in his first start for the Redmen.

"They got a few flukey goals and we dug ourselves into a bit of a hole," said coach Ron Stackhouse. Both teams started out playing well, he said. "It was hard to believe those four goals."

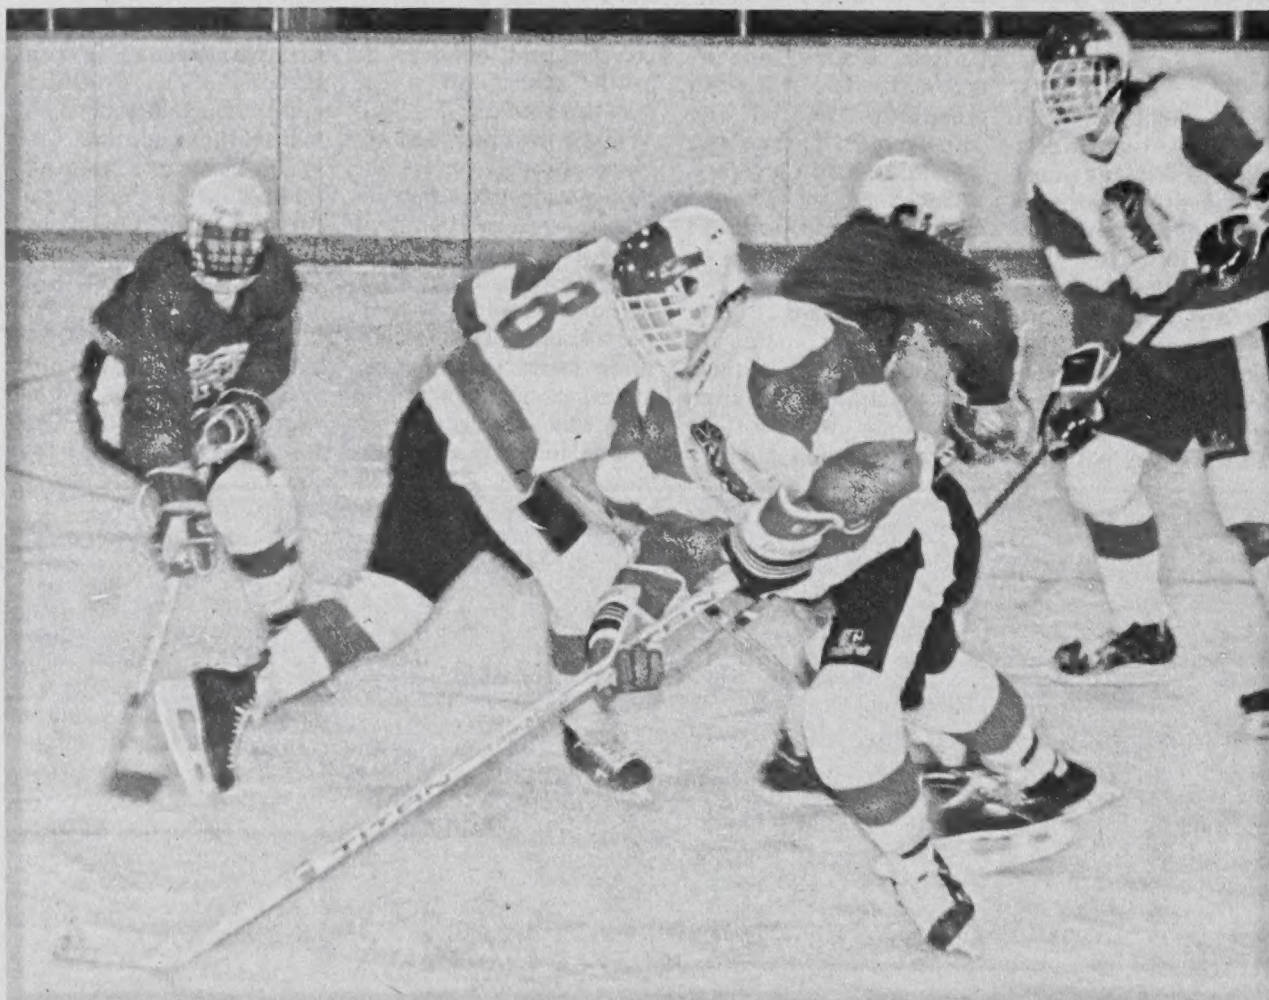

The Redmen were not about to let this game slip through their grasp, though. With a new face between the posts, they started showing the talent and heart that has kept them near the top of the standings so far this season.

Stackhouse says the team played well overall. However, it was the line of Erin Nichols, Jaro Cooper and John Vuksic that did almost all of the damage. Cooper earned three goals and four assists. Vuksic also scored three and earned two assists. Nichols scored twice and assisted three times. The ninth Haliburton goal was marked by Jason Billings.

Wednesday's game marked the halfway point in the season for the Redmen. And based on their play so far, coach Stackhouse is confident the team will pick up one of the four playoff berths.

"We've played all the teams now. I don't see any reason why we can't be in there," he said. Although he was not aware of the other teams' records, Stackhouse is sure the Redmen are at least in the top four at this point in the season. St. Pete's is the only team in the league that is undefeated. The other strong teams are Fenelon Falls and Campbellford.

The Redmen were to have played in the "Snow-fest" tournament in Peterborough on Friday and Saturday. Their next scheduled game is at home on January 11 against Fenelon Falls. The time for this game is 7:30 p.m.

The Redmen's line of Jaro Cooper, Erin Nichols and John Vuksic was in top form last week when they took on I.E. Weldon Secondary School at home. The Lindsay high school took an early 4-0 lead, but the Redmen rallied for a 9-5 win. The line of Cooper, Nichols and Vuksic was responsible for eight of the Redmen goals. The HHSS team now has a record of seven wins and two losses and their chances of making the play-offs look good.

Nature tours offer lots of adventure

by Marion Strebig
Federation of Ontario
Naturalists

Eat too much over the holiday? Feeling heavy and out-of-sorts? Need something zippy for the new year? FON's 1989 Membership Trips and Canadian Nature Tours (CNT), offer you plenty of opportunities for adventure and for learning.

The unique feature of these trips is that, because they are aimed at people who are interested in natural history and conser-cross-country ski weekends in scenic locations like the Bruce and the Muskokas which will combine working on your skiing technique with vation, they visit areas outside the usual tourist track. Also all of the leaders are volunteers with an intimate knowledge of the trip area plus expertise in aspects of natural history, canoeing, camping, history, or orienteering. Any profit from our trips program goes toward our various conservation enterprises like preparing school kits on subjects such as Acid Rain and Endangered Species, working to get a provincial wetlands policy, participating as an intervenor in the Class Environmental Assessment for Timber Management on Crown Lands in Ontario, producing our quarterly magazine Seasons and this weekly column, and preserving significant natural areas in Ontario through purchases of our 14 nature reserves.

The Membership Trips Program, which concentrates on short day or week-end trips, provides more than a hundred opportunities to explore the natural features of Southern Ontario with expert guides. For instance, in November, I spent a day with Martin and Kathy Parker, Membership Trips Coordinators, finding exotic gulls on the Niagara River.

To get you out of your post-Christmas doldrums the program offers several observations of winter wildlife. For the really adventurous, there is a wilderness weekend in the Temagami area where participants will ski into a wilderness campsite, and camp in heated tents. Equipment and supplies will be transported by dog-sled.

Spring outings will follow the rhythm of migration. In March you can go to Long Point to see the Tundra Swans in their thousands as they pause briefly on their way to the Arctic. Also in March the hawk watch starts at Beamer's Point near Grimsby. Other trips cover locations for specific hawk species. For instance, there is the trip to the Bruce to see Rough-legged Hawks. In May, trips concentrate on the "jewels of the woodland", the warblers, with visits to Point Pelee and the less famous but equally rewarding Pelee Island.

Other outings explore unique plant communities and areas of special botanical interest lie the Carolinian region. Activities offered in connection with some of the trips are

Kiss it goodbye

Unless the Rockcliffe Tavern hockey team can get its act back together soon, it can kiss first place goodbye.

There are only four games remaining in the Minden Men's Recreational hockey schedule and for the first time this season the Rockcliffe has fallen out of first place. The club finished the first half of the season without a loss, but in the second half they have yet to earn a win.

Halls Insurance has now settled into first place and is working on a six-game winning streak. Their 10-8 win over Home Hardware last Monday puts them one game ahead of the Rockcliffe. In other games last week The Times crushed the Rockcliffe 12-6 and Hartwick Construction beat Vasey Real Estate 10-4.

Halls 10, Home 8

In what proved to be the only close contest of the night, Halls outdistanced Home 10-8 with the help of some strong scoring power from Dave Hartwick.

Hartwick, the league's second best goal scorer, added another four to his record Monday. Kevin Hamilton and Ed Gibbons added two each to the Halls' count while Brian Noseworthy and Brian Shaw scored one each.

Lawrence Lougheed, Dave Wheeler and Gary Nelson scored two each for Home. John McAdam and Cory Walker added the other two.

Times 12, Rockcliffe 6

The Rockcliffe team showed none of the stuff that kept them in first place for most of the season as they crumbled 12-6 to The Times.

Ben Manuge and John Ballantyne scored three each in this romp to victory. Irwin Asbel added two and singles went to Paul Perreault, Craig Crowe, Lou Reynolds and Merv Mintz.

Scott Hamilton and Barry Boice led the scoring for the Rockcliffe with two each. Tim George and Daryl Ward added one each.

Hartwick 10, Vasey 4

Continuing to show surprising strength, Hartwick won their fourth game of the season in easy fashion

The Standings

	W	L	GF	GA	P
Halls	8	2	95	64	16
Rockcliffe	7	3	96	72	14
Home	5	5	62	71	10
Hartwick	4	6	59	56	8
Times	4	6	70	99	8
Vasey	2	8	54	75	4

with a 10-4 score over Vasey. This is the third straight win for Hartwick.

The bulk of Hartwick's scoring was done by Doug Ray. His four goals in this game bring his season total to eight goals. Sid MacKeigan scored two of Hartwick's goals while singles came from the sticks of Jim Keetch, Andy Campbell, Ken Casey and Carl Northey.

Harold Cowen led

Vasey with two goals. Ivan Ingram scored one, as did Ken Barry.

The 11th week of the schedule will be played out tonight at the Minden arena. At 7 p.m. Vasey will meet with Home. At 8:30 p.m. Hartwick and The Times will meet. At 10 p.m. the Rockcliffe will have a chance to climb back into first place as they meet up with Halls.

Wetlands continue to disappear

Ontario's wetlands have been disappearing since the 1850s through encroaching land clearances, draining, filling and shoreline development.

In some areas of southwestern Ontario, 81 to 100 per cent of these original bogs, swamps, marshes, and fens are gone. Overall, above 75 per cent of southern Ontario's wetlands have been lost.

While swamps and bogs may appear useless to many people, wetlands are essential as flood control mechanisms and as habitat and staging areas for many migrating bird species.

A report has been prepared that will help planning agencies and municipalities in Ontario more effectively plan and make land use decisions affecting wetlands.

The report - Provincially and Regionally Significant Wetlands in Southern Ontario, Interim Report - lists the biological, hydrological, social and other special features of 152 wetlands.

The preparation of the report was sponsored by the World Wildlife Fund (Canada) with support from the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters. Both groups assisted in the report by sponsoring federal Canada Works Section 38 job creation projects.

The report, which provides ready access to information on some of Ontario's most significant wetlands, is useful to planning agencies and municipalities, landowners, naturalist organizations, and anyone else with an interest in wetlands.

The wetlands listed in the report are rated as provincially significant (Class I or Class II) or regionally significant (Class III), according to a ranking system developed by MNR and the Canadian Wildlife Service.

Under this system, wetlands are given a rating from one to seven based on an evaluation of the biological, social, hydrological, and special features of the wetland. The special features component includes an assessment of endangered and provincially significant animals and plants, and habitat for migratory birds.

More than 700 wetlands were studied for this report and 96 were ranked as provincially significant and 56 as regionally significant.

The report is part of an ongoing provincial wetlands evaluation program to help planners, municipalities and groups interested in conservation understand the features of some of these crucial areas.

A second report on other wetlands that have subsequently been evaluated will be published when the analysis is completed.

Evaluations for the report were carried out in 1983 and 1984 by the ministry, conservation authorities, and the Canadian Wildlife Service. A number of wetlands were re-evaluated from 1985 to 1987 to incorporate more recent data.

Single copies of the interim report are available free at the ministry's Public Information Centre, Room 1640, Whitney Block, 99 Wellesley Street West, Toronto, Ontario M7A 1W3. There may be charges for bulk orders.

Province studies rights-of-way

Ontario Minister of Transportation Ed Fulton has announced an inter-ministerial committee will be formed to consider provincial acquisition of abandoned railway rights-of-way for transportation, recreation and other public uses.

"In recent years, railway rationalization programs have resulted in the abandonment of some 1,500 km of branch lines in Ontario," Fulton said. "If present trends continue, even more lines will be taken out of service."

"The vacant rights-of-way have the potential to be developed by the province for a variety of uses. If we do not act quickly, however, we may be faced with the permanent loss of these valuable tracts of land."

The committee is comprised of representatives from the Ministries of Treasury and Economics, Tourism and Recreation, Natural Resources, Culture and Communications, Environment, Northern Development and Mines, Municipal Affairs, Housing, Agriculture and Food, Energy, Government Services and Transportation.

Norman Mealing, Executive Director of the ministry's Provincial Transportation Division, will serve as chairman.

Presentations by individuals or groups who wish to propose alternative uses for abandoned rail rights-of-way will be welcomed by the committee.

Winter Extravaganza winners are named

Just in time for the winter season, the Scenic Highway 35 Association has announced the winners of the Winter Extravaganza raffle. Tickets for the draw were on sale through the summer and fall season with the aim of letting people know of the many recreational opportunities available in the Highway 35 corridor during the winter season.

The winner of the snowmobile weekend at Lorelea Country Inn was Hugh Ashby of Little Britain. Tim Clarke of Bracebridge won the downhill ski package at Red Umbrella Inn. The cross-country ski package at Hart Lodge was won by Mary Comi of Toronto, while Jack Phillips of Little Britain will enjoy an ice fishing package at the Clansman Motel that also includes dinner at Phil's Roadhouse.

In another draw organized by the association, Aaron Hatfield of Kettle-by, Ontario was the winner of a snowmobile. The second prize of $500 went to D. McIntyre of Scarborough while Gerry Rintoul of Fenelon Falls was the third place winner of $250.

The draws were made December 20 with Stanhope Reeve Harry Davis officiating as the drawmaster.

At the same meeting, the winners of the summer fish derby were announced. Merchandise prizes were awarded to the angler with the heaviest catch in each of three species. Taking the prize for a four pound ten ounce smallmouth bass was Cecelia Tiaber. The winner in the largemouth bass competition was Doug Bowie with a catch of five pounds, eight ounce. The largest lake trout registered for the contest was caught by Steve Lamouri. His catch weighed 14 pounds, 12 ounces.

Positive attitude talk pays off for novices

by Lisa Kerr

Hello hockey fans.

On Sunday, December 18 after many a Christmas pageant and party, our boys ended the weekend with a game way "down" in Millbrook. This was our first time in Millbrook though we had played against them earlier during Oakwood's tournament.

With the directions given to get to the arena by Coach Todd we all made it as though it was old hand. Mind you, I got the feeling that if I had driven one hour further I'd probably have hit the U.S.A. border!

Anyway, the game began in favour of Millbrook as they put an excellent goal past Kerr. Minden began to pick up steam (or perhaps the sugar that was consumed that day kicked in) but not until the third period. During those last four minutes they were able to slam in two super goals.

We parents put in a long cheering game too. It seems when we drive to away games our cheering section always seems stronger!

Our goals and assists were gained by Donnery 1 goal, Todd 2 assists, Anderson 1 goal, 1 assist.

I heard later that during the third period Coach Todd and Casey gave a verbal "positive attitude talk" to the boys. It's amazing how encouragement can pay off!

Our December 24 game in Oakwood was cancelled and will be re-scheduled.

Close game

On Thursday, December 29 Oakwood arrived in our arena and gave us our money's worth from the first face-off.

Never have we had a game with so many "oos and ahhs". Every boy was working hard for each team and Oakwood's goalie had more than his share of stress! There must have been 25 shots on his net of which our boys made three to count. Oakwood managed one goal that whizzed right past goalie Kerr.

Our goals and assists go to Donnery 1 goal; Anderson 1 goal, 2 assists; Walker 1 goal; Todd 2 assists; and Carpenter 1 assist.

My special mention this week goes to Casey and Camelon who play defence. I have briefly mentioned these two before but must remark again how dedicated these boys are. Camelon and Casey can over power any player they usually come up against. If either boy must stop a puck or be it a player, Camelon or Casey rarely miss their intended targets.

Both boys look occasionally back to their goalie as if they are guarding their goalie who is sitting on a stack of "Mr. Big chocolate bars". Casey is a strong skater and whenever he puts his head a bit down you know he is starting his engine for full speed ahead! Casey also gives mom, brother or sister a big smile or two a game whenever possible.

Camelon too is noted for his strong skating abilities yet, it always looks as though Camelon is solely concentrating on the game and acts as though the crowd isn't even there.

Camelon definitely has speed on and off the ice. Very few teammates can beat him when it comes to getting their equipment on and off so fast!

How did his parents manage that one?

Both boys do their jobs in two very separate styles. Keep up the good work guys!

To Minden from Misti

Misti Campbell is a Minden high school student who is spending a year in Japan as part of the Rotary International Student Exchange Program. Her participation in the program is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Minden. Misti shares some of her observations of Japan in the follow report.

Hello! Merry Christmas! How's everybody doing? I'm great! I have been told that there is some snowfall.

Here in Osaka, the leaves are just changing colours. Everything is beautiful but cold. The temperature ranges from 5 degrees C to 13 degrees C each day, which may not be as cold as Minden but it is very cold when you do not have central heating! That includes no fireplaces. The school has central heating but doesn't turn it on unless the temperature goes down to about 5 degrees C or less. The library is an exception so I spend as much time as I can there.

School is going fine. Yesterday the whole school ran an eight-kilometre run, just for school spirit. In January the whole school will walk 75 km to Nara City and back, for school spirit and endurance. Here at Gyosei, they have a lot of school spirit!

Soon, December 9, 10, 12, 13, exams will begin, so now there is a lot of studying going on. I don't have to write any exams but I will come to school anyway to study my Japanese, which is coming along quite well now, I've been told.

In Japan, Christmas isn't as celebrated as Canada. Here, the parents might give their children one present and afterward go out to dinner at a restaurant, but that depends on how traditional the family is. The stores here, like anywhere, are really trying to commercialize Christmas but I think it will be a few more years before it really catches on.

My family will exchange gifts among the four of us and then afterward get together with my host mother's family and go out to dinner. And if you are wondering what we'll be eating, I can guarantee you it won't be turkey, ham or roast as we know it! But I'm sure it will be delicious.

New Year's is the BIG holiday with lots and lots of partying for all! My family and another will be going to Nara for New Year's where we will visit a temple and eat dinner. I may even wear a kimono. This is the holiday to wear kimonos.

Oh, November 15 to the 18 I went to Okinawa on a school trip with 450 other Gyosei students. It was a blast. Though it was cloudy or rainy the whole four days, we still made the best of it. The temperature was about 21 degrees - 22 degrees C. While we were there we visited a pineapple farm, a Botanical garden, glass factory, a traditional Japanese village, a Memorial park where the last battle was fought during WW II, and we watched a rock concert. (The teachers even went to this event!). We had one whole day for free time. So that day I went jetskiing, hydro-boarding, swimming, played beach volleyball, frisbee and bounced around on the trampoline. Okinawa is very beautiful, though there is a lot of construction being done. It also got quite noisy in the area of the American Army Air Base (which was quite huge, I might add) but other than that everything was like what you'd see on T.V.

Well, I hope you've enjoyed my letter. I hope everybody has a super Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Take it easy, love,

Seniors should be wary of fast-talking con artists

It seems we can scarcely open a newspaper these days without reading accounts of how con artists have relieved their trusting victims of large sums of money, treasured heirlooms or other possessions.

Swindlers prey on citizens of all ages, but many regard older persons as particularly easy targets for many of these types of frauds. But it doesn't have to be that way; seniors can avoid being taken in by exercising a little caution and common sense.

The so-called "pigeon drop" scheme accounts for more than half of the confidence games reported to police. Here's how it works: the con artist claims to have found a large sum of money, and offers to share it with the intended victim. The victim is asked to withdraw money from the bank as a sign of "good faith". The swindler simply takes the good faith money, gives the victim a phony address where the found money can be collected, and is never heard from again.

The "bank examiner/inspector" scheme is also commonly used. A thief posing as an examiner or inspector telephones the victim asking him or her to help catch a dishonest bank employee. The victim is instructed to withdraw a certain amount of cash so that the "inspector" can check the serial numbers on the bills. If the victim plays along, it will likely be the last time the thief and the money are ever seen.

Another effective scheme used to entice seniors is the door-to-door sale. A con artist using a high pressure sales pitch may try to sell an item that isn't sold door-to-door, or may be a worthless imitation of a product or service that is. He or she may also make a tempting offer on home improvements, or pose as a representative of a legitimate charity. Don't hesitate to ask for identification or check the credentials of a salesperson or canvasser. Ask and be sure!

Swindlers don't limit their approaches to the front door alone; some of their most ingenious schemes arrive by mail. Glossy flyers advertise contests that guarantee a win but first require a fee. Chain referral schemes offer attractive commissions to would-be salespersons, provided they first buy one of the items being offered. Retirement estates are offered to "lucky" individuals at suspiciously low prices. Business opportunities and work-at-home schemes promise high profits, but require substantial investment.

Miracle cures and medical frauds may also arrive in the mail, a system not used by legitimate doctors and hospitals.

Although these schemes are plentiful, it is relatively simple to avoid becoming a victim.

Here are some common-sense guidelines:

- never turn over large sums of cash to anyone, no matter how promising the deals seem to be
- be wary of "nice" strangers, especially if the conversation turns to money
- be discreet and avoid chatting about your private business, especially financial matters, with someone you do not know well

- never rush into something involving your money or property, particularly if you feel under pressure to do so

- never sign any contract or cheque until you are sure it's legitimate

- If you have any doubts about a situation, check with a friend, a lawyer, a banker or the police.

It's been said many times before, in many different ways, but it is still a good rule-of-thumb: If it sounds too good to be true - it probably is.

Spot The Shot

It's a long, long time since you've seen this headline in The Times, however, we promised to announce the winner of the last photo in the Spot The Shot contest which appeared in the Fall Colour Tour edition of This Month in the Highlands. Once again our loyal readers didn't let us down, as they pored over the aerial shot to discern the scene below. The plane was circling over Highway 35 and Buttermilk Falls when we snapped that photo. Rick Patterson of Bowmanville recognized the scene because his family has a summer retreat nearby. The random winner generator selected Rick's entry as the winner of the last Spot The Shot contest of 1988. Congratulations to him and to everyone else who correctly identified the shot. A reminder that Spot The Shot 1989 returns soon with a series of new fun shots and prizes. See you then.

Excitement builds for fifth edition of sled dog derby

The excitement of Christmas and New Year's will barely have died down when everything picks up again two weeks later for the fifth annual running of the Minden Sled Dog Derby. The race weekend, January 14th and 15th, will once more see dozens of mushers and hundreds of dogs and thousands of spectators crowding into the county town.

According to Race Governor Val Lougheed,

the Minden Sled Dog Derby has become the largest limited-class sled-dog race in the world. It is also the only race in the province sanctioned by the International Sled Dog Racing Association (ISDRA). Thanks to the generosity of race sponsor Martin Feed Mills of Elmira, Ontario, this year's purse has been doubled for the second year in a row and stands at $20,000. This factor, plus the warmth of Highlands hospitality, a challenging race course, and first-class organization will bring to town the top mushers in the world.

One of these world-class mushers is Terri Killam of Northboro, Mass., a regular race favourite. For the past two years, Killam has won the eight-dog class and placed second in the four-dog. She was also the 1988 ISDRA Gold Medal Winner in the eight-dog class - in other words, the best eight-dog musher in the world. Her return to Minden this year will feature two added twists.

In 1989, Killam's parents celebrate their 35th wedding anniversary. Her present to them is a trip from their home in Massachusetts to Minden to watch her compete.

Killam has also generously offered to provide one of her championship

(more on page 15)

The Main Street start chute is crowded with spectators and participants during the annual Minden Sled Dog Derby. The event draws championship racers from across North America to compete in the four and eight dog classes. Racing will start at 11 a.m. both Saturday and Sunday.

dogs to the grand winner of the elementary school poster contest for the kid-and-mutt race. In addition, this lucky youngster will spend an hour with Killam during one of the race days and get an inside look at the world of sled-dog racing.

The sled dog derby provides a fine family weekend. The Main Street start and finish allow spectators of all ages a front-row view of the excitement. Spectators are also welcome along the trail and in the "pit" area where the mushers park their trucks and prepare their dogs for the race.

Racing gets under way both days at 11:00 a.m. The kid-and-mutt race will take place on Saturday around 3:00 p.m. Presentation of the prizes and trophies will take place on Sunday at about the same time.

With lots of snow already on the ground, volunteers throughout the community getting their assignments, and mushers across Ontario, Quebec, and the northern U.S. gassing up their trucks for the trip to Minden, the fifth running of the Minden Sled Dog Derby promises once again to be a thrilling winter weekend.

Helping to make the season bright, these Minden merchants were rewarded for their Christmas decorating efforts. At the right, Carol Howell, with her dog Ripley, won for the best commercial interior decoration. Her store, The Something Shop, reflected the excitement and colour of the season throughout.

The winter scene painted on the window of Mabel's Cut N Curls caught the eye of the judges for the best commercial exterior display. Standing with the winning entry are, from the left, shop owner Gina Belli, and staff Lynn Nelson and Lisa Tomlinson.

Report from Staunworth Court

A Happy New Year from Staunworth Court.

We hope everyone had a pleasant and blessed Christmas! Many of our folk were visited or visited their families, or friends. We were very happy to have Mabel and Len Trodd back with us for the holidays.

The annual Christmas party held by the Stanhope Firefighters was enjoyed by the Seniors of our apartments, namely Corinne Bonneville, Eleanor Pye, and Marg Horsley. We thank all for the transportation provided for us, and the music led by Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and the children of the community. It surely made Christmas very blessed to hear the children's voices.

The December meeting of our Social Club was chaired by Jean Marsh. She drew our attention to our Christmas party coming up, at which Mr. Bill Payne and musicians would entertain us. The directors and wives, the administrators, and Mr. D. Finn, our local lawyer are to help us to enjoy another Christmas together. (We do look forward to your visits.)

The children of the Minden Gospel Church once again favoured us with their sweet voices as they sang many Christmas carols for us and with us. We look forward to their visits as they have called on us each year since our coming to this, our new home. They wished us a Merry Christmas as they came around to shake hands with each of us. May you never lose your kind ways of presenting yourselves. A Happy New Year to you and yours.

What a pleasant surprise was enjoyed by many of our shut-ins when the Howard family presented each with a tiny version of a Christmas tree already laden with their own made decorations and fruit and goodies. Children can express so well their own heartfelt feelings at this time of year. (After all, Christmas is for children, don't you agree? Christ is the reason for the season!) Many thanks to this family for sharing their Christmas so kindly.

Corinne Bonneville, Eleanor Pye and Marg Horsley enjoyed the Christmas euchre party and lunch at St. Paul's Church.

Our annual Christmas party was indeed a sociable success. Mr. Payne and his Grandfather Group of Four musicians entertained us in their usual cheerful ways. (One of the group came up from Oshawa for the evening. Thank you so much.) Gifts were exchanged and Santa (I shan't tell?), promised he would stay and enjoy the goodies and the punch with us. Those whose birthdays were in December were treated to a lovely birthday cake. They were Vivian Anderson, Margaret Horsley, Mel Foster, Bill Donnelly, John Mielonen and Mabel Trodd (who was away enjoying the southern sun). A very enjoyable evening drew to a close as each went his or her own way with Season's Greetings and a wish from us for a Very Happy and Prosperous 1989.

Wit and wisdom says tact is when you tell someone where to go so nicely that they actually look forward to the trip.

It has been said that a sure sign one is getting older is - you get out of breath playing euchre. Well you decide as you read our record for December.

Dec. 2 - High - Mel F., Low - Eleanor P., M.L.H. - Bill Donnelly.

December 9 - High - Jean M., Low - Marg H., M.L.H. - Florence L.

December 16 - High - Fern D., Low - Marg H., M.L.H. - Eleanor P.

December 23 - High - Jean M., Low - Eleanor P., M.L.H. - Bill D.

December 30 - High - Fern D., Low - Jean M., M.L.H. - Len Trodd.

Eleanor Ferris recently returned from an extended trip to the Barbados Islands with her friend Madeline from Hall's Lake. Glad you had a good trip, Eleanor, and to see you home again.

A sincere thank you goes out to Harry Pye and Rockcliffe Snack Bar for sponsoring the very efficient taxi service afforded us by Ann and Ralph and to The Times in allowing us space in their newspaper.

Did you hear about the Newfie lady who stalled her car on the bridge in Minden. Immediately a man driver behind her began blowing his horn loudly and long. Finally she got out, went back and asked him - "Sir, would you kindly go and start my car? I'll stay here and keep your horn blowing."

Henry Howe has had surgery on his arm in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, and is improving. Ivy Angliss was taken by ambulance to hospital in Lindsay. At present she is with her daughter, Gail. Holly Cooper spent some time in Lindsay hospital undergoing surgery on her leg. After a short stay in their apartment, George Davidson has had to be under hospital care again. (We were glad to see him back playing euchre with us.) Other folk under Doctor's care are Janet Perry, Florence Lindsay and Eleanor Pye. We do wish you all a very healthy year ahead.

So sorry to hear of the death of Joe Dollo. He and Florence often played euchre with us, as also they would provide transportation for some of us to the euchre games at St. Paul's Church. Our sympathy goes to Florence and family.

Yes, we saw the Old Year out and the New Year in, with games, goodies and punch, and All for Auld Syne, and Best Wishes for a Happy, Healthy and Prosperous New Year 1989 to everyone! (By the way, who finished the punch?)

senior league

by Winnifred Barnum

Well folks, we are starting another new year. Sadly for us since Pearl Lyle has resigned as our news writer. She feels she is not able to continue in this capacity. Winnifred Barnum will endeavor to carry on as news writer in Pearl's place. She will be greatly missed by everyone who read "Senior League".

The service Sunday night was conducted by Mr. Burgess in the Chapel as usual. On Tuesday, January 3, 1989, Father George Elliott of Minden Anglican Church had Chapel Service and Communion. I believe it was the last service before he leaves this community for King City. He will be missed very much by his congregation and the area at large.

Maron Rose had a fall and is in the hospital as well as Mrs. Stutt again. Mr. Gord Ruttle is in the hospital for a short time.

The first birthday in 1989 as Hugh McEachern on January 2nd.

Tuesday afternoon we were shown a movie in the auditorium, "Upper Canada Village," and "5000 Miles."

January 3rd, Sylvia Howard was in and took Olga Myles for a tour of the Home. Sylvia does a great amount of knitting which she donates to the Home. This helps our bazaars which is appreciated very much.

Mary McKelvey spent New Year's weekend with her daughter Erma on the Donald Road, and her family.

At present there are several ladies here who are training to be health care aides.

Last Wednesday, my son Terry Barnum took me to my sister's in Peterborough for 4 days and I had dinner with them and my great-niece and family from Virginia Beach, Virginia.

Our sympathy goes to the relatives of Margaret Gainforth who passed away Monday.

We have two new residents, May Horsley and Alice Rivers, and we hope they enjoy their residence here.

In our showcase we are displaying our new Cook Books which we have for sale. They are full of good recipes and we think they are very attractive and will make real nice gifts.

Till next time, Happy New Year.

Blakey, Mintz wed in October

Blakey - Mintz

The marriage of Werna Blakey, daughter of Donald and Elaine Blakey of Minden, to Craig Mintz, son of Ron and Dorothy Mintz of Gooderham, took place on October 1, 1988.

The lovely candle light service by Rev. George Elliott was held at St. Paul's Anglican Church, Minden. Special passage readings by David Blakey and beautiful music played by church organist Anne McAdam.

A picture from the past the lovely bride wore her mother's wedding gown. The gown was ballerina length white tulle and Chantilly lace, the princess line bodice having applique of tulle at the scalloped neckline edged with tiny pearls and similar appliques on the bouffant skirt. Her elbow length veil of silk illusion edged with tiny pearls was caught to an Elizabethan pleated bonnet and she was carrying pink sweetheart roses with buds on strands of ribbon hanging from the white prayer book on which the bouquet sat.

The couple was given away by both sets of parents.

The bride's attendants were: Matron of Honour, Janice Crawford, wearing a Royal Blue satin and Chantilly lace dress touched off with a matching satin bow, belt and hat. Bridesmaids were Shannon Mintz, Dale Allison and Andrea Donaldson also dressed in the same attire, with pearl combs in their hair compliments of Jan's Hair Affair.

The girls carried bouquets made up of pink miniature carnations and powder blue roses, babies breath and ribbons.

The groom looked dashing in his Grey Meadoveave Tuxedo with tails and matching accessories touched off with a pink carnation and white rose bud boutonniere.

Blakey, wore a white organdy dress with three tiered gathered skirt and white silk gloves. She carried a basket filled with pink miniature carnations with tiny blue flowers, babies breath and white ribbon streamers. She was accompanied by her brother, Joshua Blakey, the ringbearer. He was wearing a tuxedo similar to that of the groom and carried the wedding rings on a white heart shaped satin cushion.

The bride's mother looked lovely in her peach chiffon with Swiss lace gown and she wore an exquisite wrist corsage of rust coloured roses.

The groom's mother looked pretty in her beautiful pink chiffon gown with rhinestones on the shoulders and a pale pink rose corsage.

The pictures were taken at the Horseshoe Rapids and the reception followed at the Minden Community Centre Hall.

All the flowers as well as the wedding cake were graciously and beautifully done by Precilla Mintz, grandmother of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Mintz are now residing in Oshawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Mintz, married October 1, 1988.

The groomsmen, Jeff also wore Grey Meadoveave tuxedos and tails with royal blue accessories. The flower girl, Leila bicycling, canoeing, kayaking and birdbanding. These trips offer everyone an affordable chance to learn about the diversity and beauty of the natural areas of Southern Ontario.

Keeping the focus on natural history, Canadian Nature Tours conducts longer trips to more exotic destinations. Trip destinations range from the rainforests of Costa Rica to Wager Bay on the northwestern rim of Hudson's Bay, just below the Arctic Circle. And from the charms of Grand Manan, a naturalist's paradise in the Bay of Fundy, to the towering trees, looming totem poles and rainswept beaches of the Queen Charlotte Islands. Several years ago I was fortunate enough to visit Grand Manan with a CNT trip. It began a love affair with the island which only a lack of cash keeps me from renewing annually.

As well as these trips to yearn about and save for, like the trip up the Yukon River, or the one exploring the Rockies on horseback, there are many trips closer to home. There is a cycling trip on the Bruce, a week-long trip to Long Point to participate in birdbanding, and a lodge to lodge canoe trip on the historic French River.

The canoe trips offered during July and August follow the course of northern rivers made famous by their association with the fur trade - the Missinabi (soon to be designated as a provincial waterway park), the Montreal and the Spanish. These trips are graded according to your expertise as a paddler, ranging from novice to advanced, a designation which denotes considerable white water paddling. Trips like these are a brief respite from the stresses of civilization, and a chance to establish real contact with the land.

Brochures for both programs are available by sending a stamped self-addressed envelope to me at the FON, 355 Lesmill Road, Don Mills, M3B 2W8. The trip descriptions in the brochures are so compelling that you don't even need to leave your armchair in order to see the warblers, smell the salt air, enjoy alpine meadows or Arctic tundra, or savour the feel of the paddle digging into white water. Getting the trip brochures will be like getting the first seed catalogues in the dead of winter, a welcome invasion of sensual impressions.

Add colour to your home with a lovely dried or silk flower arrangement

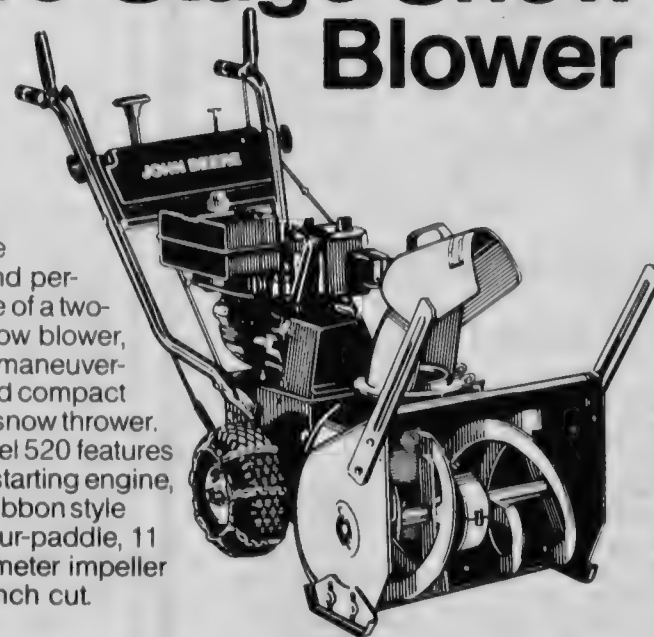

Choose your flowers from our colourful selection. We'll arrange them in your vase or one from our shelves.

During January the cost of arranging the flowers is FREE

all you pay for is the flowers and the vase.

by Pearl Lyle

Dear readers: Merry Christmas and Happy New Year to all. Rev. J. Burgess had service in the Chapel on Sunday evening and Tuesday morning Rev. J. Fast came.

Annie Schultz had a nice birthday party on Sunday afternoon.

Variety Night was held in the auditorium one night last week. It was very nice to have the Haliburton band, Mrs. Ethel Hanson was the pianist for the evening as the regular lady couldn't be present. Doris played the piano, it was all very well acted and proved enjoyable to all. The food after was real good too. The Anglican Church young folk put on a very nice pageant and sang carols.

We welcome two new residents, Mrs. May Horsley and Mrs. Cora Upton.

The young folk of the Minden Gospel Church came one evening to sing carols. They put on a wonderful lunch and each lady received a wee gift.

Ina McGuire had three of her relatives to see her on Sunday.

We are glad to see

Maron Rose and Lola Prentice home from hospital.

Mr. Bill Scott and a carful of ladies attended Mrs. Schultz's birthday party.

Annie Jones had her son and his wife come to see her on Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Peel came and visited Hazel Hoskin. Anna Gordon and Marion McDonald attended the birthday party and then visited with me for a short time.

Lily Hogg had as guests her two sons and their wives on Sunday.

The ladies from Minden Curling Club brought in the tea party lunch and it was lovely. Mr. Foster came and played the guitar and sang for us, we enjoyed it all very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Ackerblade came and visited with their sister Mable Buttery.

Au revoir.

Exhibit helps clear post-holiday blues

by Leo Dobrensky

Two upcoming exhibitions at the Rails' End Gallery should help one and all to overcome the inevitable post-holiday blues. "Private Collections" open from January 7 to 28, features art from local collections. Each piece, cherished and lovingly displayed in a private home, reflects the interests and taste of individual owners who have graciously consented to share their treasures, for a short time only, with the general public.

Also opening on January 7, is the "Guild of All Arts", an exhibition now on tour, courtesy of the Ontario Crafts Council. Displayed are woven items as well as copper and pewter containers, wood statuettes and plaques - all produced during the 1930's in the Guild's own studios and shops. The Guild of All Arts was initiated by Spencer and Rosa Breithaupt Clark on their forty acre property overlooking Scarborough Bluffs on Lake Ontario. Today it is probably better remembered as the Guild Inn. During the organization's heyday, thirty thousand hand looms were manufactured in the Inn's woodworking shop and shipped all over the world. When Spencer Clark became first interested in the project, the only hand looms available were similar to those used by weavers before the Industrial Revolution. They were too large, too noisy and only efficient if one was going to weave at least 50 to 100 yards of the same material. British designers William Morris and Mrs. William Thackeray helped Clark to develop a better design, which was then mass produced at the Inn under the name of Guildcraft Thackeray Loom and Guildcraft Silent Speed Loom.

Celebration 89: The Best of Members Show. (March 11 - April 1) is quickly approaching. Conditions for entry and entry forms are available at the Gallery and will also be distributed with the next Guild Letter.

IN MEMORIAM

JOHNSTON: In loving memory of our two sons and brothers, Alvin Carl who died accidentally January 16, 1964 and Myles Ellwood who was killed October 11, 1968.

A million times we've needed you
A million times we've cried
If love could have saved you
You never would have died.
Things we feel most deeply
Are the hardest things to say
Our dearest ones we loved you
In a very special way.
If we could have one lifetime wish
One dream that could come true
We'd pray to God with all our hearts
For yesterday and you.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Mom, brothers and sisters.

UPTON: Jean. In loving memory of a dear wife and mother who passed away January 3, 1985.

Sadly missed along life's way
Quietly remembered every day
No longer in our lives to share
But in our hearts she's always there.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Allan Upton and family.
